Lace it up buttercup

The very first equestrians already wore them: lace-up riding boots. At Petrie, we think we should continue that tradition, improved with a zipper on the inside for convenience. The new models also have an innovative closed lace-up system, to prevent your laces from sliding when you ride. The Petrie Florence is available in many different colors and leather styles. With its timeless class and aesthetics, the Florence is a very popular training boot with various (inter) national allround and dressage riders.
